

Kenn. Von Kann, Clifton (Maj Gen)
CIA 1-04 (Von Kann, Clifton F. Maj Gen)

CIA 5-03.2

COLUMBUS, OHIO DISPATCH

e. 215,763
S. 299,618

Front Edit Other
Page Page Page

Date: MAY 24 1964

Army Center General To Talk Here

Maj. Gen. Clifton F. Von Kann, commanding general of the U.S. Army's Aviation Center, Ft. Rucker, Ala., will Central Ohio Chapter, Association of the U. S. Army, Wednesday at the Ft. Hayes Officers Club.

Von Kann, who holds the senior parachutist rating, is responsible for the training of Army aviators in both fixed wing aircraft and helicopters at Ft. Rucker.

During World War II he served with the 77th Field Artillery Regiment. For action at Cassino, during the Italian Campaign, he was awarded the Silver Star.

VON KANN WAS assigned to the War Department General Staff following V-E Day. Other assignments include Office of the Controller of the Army, assistant controller for Plans and Policy, the Central Intelligence Agency, adviser to the Korean Army, deputy chief of staff for Army Forces, Far East; deputy commander for Combat Arms, and director of Army Aviation.

